

Online Information Session

Visible Minority Newcomer Women at Work

Are you a visible minority newcomer woman? Do you need help finding employment in your field? Join us for an information session to find out how the Visible Minority Newcomer Women at Work program can help you!

To be eligible for this program, you must:

- Identify yourself as a visible minority woman
- Have a post-secondary education
- Have a Canadian Language Benchmark (CLB) of 5 +
- Be a permanent resident of Canada
- Be a new client to the Employment and Bridging programs at ISANS

At the information session, you will:

- Meet with project coordinators and facilitators
- Learn about the Visible Minority Newcomer Women at Work program
- If interested, sign a consent form, and complete a survey and four online assessments

During the program, you will:

- Build your self-confidence and learn assertive communication
- Learn how to deal with challenges when entering the workplace
- Learn how to create your own portfolio of essential skills based on occupation
